

1. Campaigners say Cobblestone Pub will be ‘swallowed up’ by hotel development

One of the country’s most famous traditional music pubs The Cobblestone in Dublin is to be incorporated into the proposed development of a hotel. In the plans it will lose much of the space that hosts musical events and classes.

<https://www.irishtimes.com/culture/heritage/campaigners-say-cobblestone-pub-will-be-swallowed-up-by-hotel-development-1.4709277>

This video package highlighted a critical issue for Dublin residents, with property developments in city centre with developers being seen to destroy community life for unwanted hotels and offices. The campaign to save the Cobblestone Pub was a notable success in this “struggle.”

